Preface.

No little confusion has in the past been caused by the use of an incorrect term to the class of documents here printed, for although it was usual to direct the writs to the County Escheator, it is none the less misleading to describe these Inquisitions as "Escheats," since that name has been reserved for the Escheator's accounts of lands and property escheated to the Crown, with the profits and value of the same at different periods.

Inquisitiones post mortem were not concerned with property held otherwise than "in chief" by tenants in capite, whose death necessitated such inquiry in order to ascertain the feudal rights which accrued to the Crown-a practice which continued until the abolition of the service of knight serjeantry in 1645, although it was not formally abolished until the accession of Charles the Second in 1660. It is unnecessary to enter into the details of feudal exactions levied by the Crown in former days, but an interesting "incident" of the service may be referred to. When the heir-at-law was a minor he became a ward of the Crown, and this was turned into a source of considerable profit, inasmuch as it first included the right not only to receive the rents and profits of the property during the ward's minority, but also to find a wife for the youthful heir. Nor did the privilege end there, for on attaining his majority the heir became the subject of further feudal exactions, being obliged, on suing out his ousterlemain (i.e., delivery to him by the Crown of the lands for which he was in ward) to make certain payments, and to bring forward strict proof that he had attained his full age of twenty-one years. Some few of the Inquisitions, known as "proofs of age" will be found in this volume, and they are very interesting documents on account of the evidence brought forward by witnesses to show how they knew that the heir had attained his majority. Inquisitiones post mortem are also some taken virtute officii, others ad quod damnum, besides those dealing with the property of felons. Instances of Inquisitions relating to lunatics and idiots do not, however, occur in these pages.

Genes legios 1- 30.00 (1015. 2, 3,4)

The proceedings which followed upon the death of a tenant in chief were commenced by the issuing of a writ, styled the writ of diem clausit extremum, a mediæval synonym for obiit, directed from the Court of Chancery to the escheator or feodary of the county in which the deceased was presumed to have possessed lands. It commanded him to summon a jury for the purpose of conducting an inquiry into the following matters:—

- I. Of what lands did the deceased die possessed?
- 2. Of whom, and by what rents or services, were the same held?
- 3. What was the date of his death?
- 4. His next heir-at-law, and of what age?
- 5. Whether an alien, or attainted of treason?

The escheator or feodary, following the directions contained in the writ, then summoned a jury, who in accordance with the revealed evidence gave their verdict upon oath; and after the return had been engrossed upon parchment, it was in due course delivered into the Court of Chancery and there filed. Owing to the nature of the inquest it was frequently necessary to inquire into family settlements and trusts; consequently when deeds and wills are introduced they are recited very fully, thus affording valuable information to the genealogist.

Into the Exchequer the Chancery officials subsequently forwarded a copy of the Inquisition so that the officers there might collect the feudal dues. If it was discovered that the jury had made an inaccurate return, a further writ, known as the writ ad melius inquirendum, was directed to the escheator or his substitute, requiring him to hold a second inquest to ascertain omitted facts, and cases even are known in which this process had to be repeated a third or fourth time. But in the reign of Henry VIII, on account of alleged extortions by Crown officials, and the practice more especially of compelling landowners who were not tenants in capite to sue out their ousterlemains, a new Court, known as that of Wards and Liveries, was created for the purpose of attending to matters connected with these Inquisitions—to which Court also were transcripts of the Inquisitiones post mortem sent. Until the thirty-fifth of Henry VIII, therefore, two sets of Inquisitions exist, the original returns being known as the "Chancery Series," and the transcripts as "Exchequer Series"; and subsequent to that date may be added a third, the "Wards and Liveries Series."

It is not to be denied that many of our English counties are fortunately circumstanced with respect to the publication of their important records. That Gloucestershire is one of these, a glance at the new list of publications of the British Record Society will show. All the Inquisitiones post mortem for the reign of Charles I have been printed,* and now it is the turn of the earliest series of all, commencing with the twentieth year of Henry III [1236]. Had the expedient been adopted of giving mere selections the work would have surely failed, but a course far wiser than this has been followed throughout: abstracts have ever been full, and periods complete: so that its success has been most marked. How complete the records are may be judged from the fact that Inquisitions for Gloucestershire to the number of four-score are printed for the reign of Henry III alone; and as regards the thoroughness of the work, this will be readily admitted from a perusal of the examples given in these pages.

The present volume, the fourth of a series, consists of such Plantagenet Inquisitions as relate to the City and County of Gloucester. They are the earliest examples now existing, and illustrate clearly the importance of these Records to the genealogist, the historian, and topographer. Commencing with the Inquisition of William Avenel, the writ for which was issued at Westminster on May 5th, 1236, this volume contains complete abstracts for the last thirty-six years of the reign of Henry III and for the greater part of the reign of his successor "the English Justinian," the total number of Inquisitions being as under:—

Civil Years.	Regnal Years.	Inquisitions.
[1236-1240	20-24 Hen. III	3)
1240-1250	25-34 "	II
I. 1250-1260	35-44 ,,	20 70
1260-1270	45-54 ,,	29 /9
1270-1272	55-57 ,,	5
II. 1236-1272	uncertain years	11) 259
1272-1280	1–8 Edw. I	56)
III. 1280-1290	9-18 "	44 \ 180
[1290-1300	19-29 "	80

The period included in the present instalment of Inquisitiones post mortem for the Plantagenet period is thus seen to cover the years

^{*} In Vols. ix. xiii. and xxi.

1236 to 1300, and it may be mentioned that arrangements have been completed whereby a considerable portion of the Inquisitions for the reigns of Edward II and Edward III will appear in the "Index Library" during 1904 and 1905, and the usual thorough Indexes Nominum et Locorum will be published as soon as the last Inquisitions of this period issue from the press. This is believed to be the better course to follow, since it has the advantage not only of hastening forward the completion of work now well in hand—thus preventing the annoyance of a prolonged pause (due both to preparation and to publication of the periodic Index)—but also of avoiding an undue multiplicity of indexes.

The abstracts of Inquisitiones post mortem here printed are taken from the Chancery Series for the reigns of Henry III and Edward I, preserved at the Public Record Office; and since the original documents are in Latin, and their decipherment, on account of age and condition, at-times a source of perplexity, even to the practised eye of the expert, the great advantage of these readable English abstracts will be readily allowed no less by the critic than the student. For they supply in each case the whole of the information contained in the originals, and for all practical purposes may therefore be considered as the Inquisitions themselves, shorn of their provoking verbiage. They have the advantage, moreover, of having been collated, whenever necessary, with the transcripts returned either into the Court of Exchequer or the Court of Wards and Liveries. For this much praise is due to Miss Walford, upon the accuracy of whose work every reliance may be placed.

ABSTRACTS

OF THE

Enquisitiones Post Mortem

RELATING TO

THE COUNTY OF GLOUCESTER,

Returned into the High Court of Chancery from the Reign of King Henry the Third.

Wailliam Abenel.

Writ dated at Westminster 5th May, 20 Hen. III [1236].

Inquisition taken of the land that William Avenel held of the King in chief in the forest of Dene, by Hugh de Kinardel, Richard de Wesbir', William de Alba Mara, William de Dene, Thomas de Blaken, Richard de Stanton, William de Heliun, Nigel Hathewy, James de Boxa, John blundun, Walter de Aura, Alexander de Blechedun, and Walter Wither, who say that

He held 2 carucates of land in Bikenor, and the land there is worth in rents, villeinage, and other issues of land, £23 6s. 1d. Dulcia, daughter of the said William, is his next heir.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 20 Hen. III, No. II.

Margaret de Cormeilles.

Writ dated at Winchester 16th May, 20 Hen. III [1236].

This is the Inquisition by Sir Robert de Stepelton, William de Cholle, Simon de Pikesleg, William de Broy, William de Aula, David de Asperton, William de la ole, Thomas de Stokes, William de Mora, Richard de Hida, Richard Clement, Clement Caperun, who say that

The said Margaret had half a knight's fee in Tatinton and in Bolingehop in Olehungre, wherein she had 3 carucates of land of the demesne, per annum 100s. rent, which she had in chief of the King; also 2 knights' fees, whereof Roger de Efton held one in the vill of Efton, in co. Hereford, and James de Solers held the other in co. Glouc. in the vill of Begesoure and Hennemerse.

The land which she held in demesne is worth £13 per annum with the said rent.

The said Margaret had 2 daughters married, Alice and Isabella: Alice the elder married Robert le Archer, and the other married Symon de Solers, and they are her heirs by Walter de Stokes, her husband.

Chan. Ing. p.m., 20 Hen. III, No. 12.

Margaret de Cormailles.

Writ dated at Winchester 17th May, 20 Hen. III [1236].

Inquisition taken as to how much land Margaret de Cormailles held of the King in chief in co. Glouc. by Henry de Perreres, Osbert de Luncceumbe, John de Huditote, Richard de Lilbusser, Geoffrey Fohard, Geoffrey de Semebur', Ralph, son of Robert, Thomas de Seefnecote, Robert de Cestr' de Rampedon, Randle de Stokes, Thomas Labane, and Hugh de Merston, who say that

They have not known or heard of any Margaret de Cormailles holding any land of the King in chief in co. Glouc.; but they say that Albreda de Marmiun formerly held certain lands in the said county of the King in chief in dower, which lands Henry de Penebregg now holds of Hugh Giffard, and the said Hugh Giffard of the King in chief.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 20 Hen. III, No. 16b.

William, son of Henry.

Writ dated at Winchester 23rd August, 26 Hen. III [1242].

Inquisition taken by command of the King by the oath of Henry le Droys, Thomas de la Forge, Philip de Kynemeresbury, Thomas de Mattresdon, William le Bedel, Hugh de Brithampton, John Drew, Walter de Elbrugge, William de Ryhun, Walter Coci, Philip de Quedesley', and Adam de Twyggenurth, to know whether William, son of Henry, ejected Reginald le Devoneis from I mill in la Berthone on the occasion of a certain custody (custodie) of I carucate of land which the King gave to the said William in la Berthone, &c.

Who say that the said William, son of Henry, ejected the said Reginald le Deveneis from the said mill on the occasion of the said custody, and that the said Reginald was seised of the said mill for 15 years before the said custody was given to the said William by the charter of Alur' de la Berthone.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 26 Hen. III, No. 20.

Thomas, Carl of Warwick.

Writ dated at Winchester 25th August, 26 Hen. III [1242].

Inquisition taken by command of the King of the knights' fees held in co. Glouc. of Thomas, sometime Earl of Warwick, by the oath of John filii Coci, Richard de la Busscre, Robert de Sireburne, Osbert de Lincecumbe, William fil' clerici, Roger le Vigrus, Richard de Bosco, Roger de Pileswelle, Henry War, Stephen russel, Richard de Gunford, and Thomas le Waleis, who say that Henry de Prereres holds of Rose de Verdun I whole fee in Dorsinton, and she was wont to (solebat) answer for that fee to the said Earl.

Also that William Manduth held of the said Earl half a fee in Weston Manduth; Richard Sivard held and still holds I fee in Cheddewith wholly of the said Earl for the term of the life of the said Richard; Climp (?) de Willinton holds I whole fee in Pulton of the said Earl; Richard de Mundevill held of the said Earl half a fee in Lydeneie; Margaret de Somery held 4th part of I fee of said Earl in Lideneie and Overe; Richard de Mundevill held to farm the 8th part of I fee of the said Earl in Lideneie of the fee which was of Gilbert le Kontes. Also John de Paris holds the 20th part of I fee of said Earl in Lydeneye.

Chan. Ing. p.m. 26 Hen. III, No. 22.

Hugh de Kilpecke.

[Writ missing.]

Extent made of the land which was of Hugh de Kylpek in co. Glouc., by the oath of Richard Manton (?) of Bifare, William de Themton (?), clerk, Richard Marmihun, Ralph Walens', Adam le Frankelleyn, Peter de Gommede, Richard Barbe de Maleswike, harbert de Ocle, Robert King, Thomas de la Hulle, Robert . . . den, and Godfrey de la Hulle, who say that [Part of the left-hand side of this Inquisition is torn away.]

Chan. Inq. p.m., 28 Hen. III, No. 23.

John Cotell.

[Writ torn away.]

Inquisition made to ascertain who now holds the manor of Frompton which John Cotele sometime held, and whether the same is held wholly or in part, &c., by the oath of Martin de Aldelonde, William de Frompton, John Nasse, Thomas Cole, Thomas le Moyne, Ralph le Moyne, Adam de Frampton, Adam Caumpe, Walter de Burgo, Ralph le Mingne, John Tortemains, and William Honypin, who say that Alyanor Cotele holds the 3rd part of 2 carucates of land in Frompton, and the 3rd part of 12 virgates of land in the said vill in villeinage, and that Asceline Cotele, sister of the said Alianor, holds another 3rd part of 2 carucates of land and 12 virgates of land in villeinage in the said vill, and William de Lucy holds with Matilda Cotele, his wife, sister of the said Alyanor, the 3rd part of 2 carucates of land and 12 virgates of land in said vill in demesne of the King in chief.

Each of them holds her part of the said manor in demesne of the King in chief severally.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 29 Hen. III, No. 37.

Morgan de Karliun

Writ dated at Westminster 15th January, 30 Hen. III [1246].

Inquisition taken as to the wood of Dimmoc, to wit, in what state Morgan de Karlyun received the said wood when the King granted the manor of Dimmoc to the said Morgan, and in what state the said wood now is, by the oath of Robert de Russeleg, Richard de Newent, Alan Marescall. Matthew de Mora, Adam de la Feld, Osbert de Boclinton, Roger de Dikes, Godfrey de la Hull, Robert Aunden, Adam de la Hull, Robert de la Linde, and Adam Walens, who say that

The said wood was devastated in the time of war by Walter de Clifford, while the manor of Dimmoc was in his hands, and that wood was well replenished with thorn and underwood, and the said Morgan received the wood in good condition as to thorn and underwood, and it is still and in the time of the said Morgan was well kept.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 30 Hen. III, No. 15.

Walter de Eshelepe.

Writ dated at Merleberge 24 July, 30 Hen. III [1246].

Inquisition taken to ascertain whether the manor of Cherleton, which Walter de Esselegh held of the gift of King Henry, grandfather of King Henry, in the time of his predecessors, and which was afterwards given to the said Walter, was wont to be taxed (talliari) when the King taxed his demesnes, by the oath of John de Alre, Philip de Hetherlegh, Walter de Biseleg, Philip de Ocle, Adam Sturmy, Richard de Kynefare, Walter de Berdestaple, John de Forda, John de Newinton, Simon le Blund, William de Stighele, and Nicholas de Newinton, who say that

The said manor was never wont to be taxed when the King caused his demesnes to be taxed, after it was given to the said Walter.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 30 Hen. III, No. 19.

Walter de Esheleye.

Writ dated at Southampton 18th June, 30 Hen. III [1246].

Inquisition taken to ascertain how much land Walter de Esheleye held of the King in chief in co. Glouc., &c., by the oath of John de Alre, Walter de Biseleg, John de Newinton, Nicholas de Newinton, William Wybert, John de Forde, Philip de Elleya, Walter de Berdestapel, Philip de Hatherleya, Simon Blund, William de stile, and Thomas Fraunkelain, who say that

The said Walter held 1 virgate of land in demesne in the vill of Cherleton, worth with the works thereto belonging 208.; also in villeinage in the said vill 9 virgates of land, which pay yearly £7 148. 7d. Also the customs and works of the customary tenants and perquisites are worth £5 58. 5d.

The said Walter held that land by the service of half a knight's fee.

Mabel Revel is his sister and next heir, and is aged 50 years, as they believe.

Sum total, £14. Chan. Ing. p.m., 30 Hen. III, No. 19.

Robert de Pontlarch.

Writ dated at Winchester 22nd February, 30 Hen. III [1246].

This is the extent of the lands and tenements and knight's fee which Robert de Pontelarche held in co. Glouc. by the oath of Robert de la Felde, Richard Mordefreit, Richard Walens, Philip de Quedosleye, Elias de Fuleye, William de Colethrop, Thomas de Matresdon, William Gerald, Geoffrey de Grava, Walter de Snedham, Walter Ruter, and Richard Ernald, who say that

The said Robert held the vill of Wulurichesthrop in chief of the King for 10s. per annum, and by making suit at the barton of the King beyond Gloucestershire; he also held in the said manor 2 carucates of land in demesne, whereof each is worth per annum 50s.; also in the said vill $2\frac{1}{2}$ virgates of land in villeinage, each whereof worth per annum 1 mark; also a garden there, worth per annum 3s.; the said vill ought to be taxed with the barton.

The said Robert held the vill of Waddon of the Earl of Hereford in chief, and held there 3 carucates of land in demesne, each whereof is worth per annum 40s. Of rent of assize 6s. and 1 lb. of pepper. In villeinage 6¾ virgates, whereof each is worth per annum 10s. Of the tallage of the villeinage at the feast of St. Michael, 1 mark. Of the issues of the garden, 3s.

The said Robert holds the vill of Mortun of the Earl of Hereford in chief, and held there 4 carucates of land in demesne, whereof each is worth per annum 5s. Of the rent of assize of the free tenants 5os. and 1 lb. of pepper per annum. He had in villeinage 13 virgates of land, whereof each is worth per annum 1 mark.

The said manor contains in itself in meadows and pastures to the value of 60s., saving the maintenance of the ploughs; in tallage of the villeinage at the feast of St. Michael, 2 marks. And he had in the said vill 2 mills, worth per annum 100s.; also in the Severn 1 weir, worth per annum, if well strengthened, 4 marks. Of the issues of the garden, 20s. The churches of Morton are of the prebend of Hereford.

The said Robert held the vill of Stanleg' of Ralph Suthleg' in chief, and had there 2 carucates of land in demesne, whereof each is worth per annum 2 marks; also in villeinage there 9 virgates of land, each whereof is worth per annum 8s. Of tallage at the feast of St. Michael, I mark; of the issues of the garden per annum, 15s.; of the issues of the dovecote per annum, 2s.

The same Robert held Coctebir' of the fee of the Earl of Hereford, and had in villeinage 4 virgates of land, whereof each is worth per annum 4s. Of tallage at the feast of St. Michael, ½ mark.

The said Robert held in co. Glouc. Morton [and] Waddon of the Earl of Hereford for 2½ knights' fees: which fees Constance, who was the wife of the said Robert, now holds by the King's bailiff.

The same held Stanleye of Ralph de Suchleg' for the 3rd part of I fee, and it is now in the hands of the King.

And he held Cokebir' of the fee of the Earl of Hereford for the 4th part of 1 fee, and it is now in the hands of the King.

Ralph de Pontelarche, brother of the said Robert, is his next heir after William de Pontelarche, who was lately outlawed in the land of England (terra Angl').

Sum total, £60 7s. 10d. and 2 lb. of pepper. Chan. Ing. p.m., 30 Hen. III, No. 35.

Abbot of Wincheumb.

Writ dated at Westminster 15th December, 30 Hen. III [1245].

Inquisition taken to ascertain whether it would be to the damage of the vill or abbey of Winchecumbe, or of any other, if the King granted to Master Henry, parson of the Church of St. Peter of the said vill, to lengthen the chancel of the said church by 12 feet towards the east, and to enlarge an aisle built on the south part of the said church 30 feet in length and 12 feet in width, by the oath of Walter fil' clerici, Walter le Despenser, Nicholas de Wygorn', William son of Hugh, Robert le Charpunter, Walter le Paumer, William Keys, Richard son of Nicholas, Walter de Etintone, Henry de Stodleg, Henry Tinctoris, and Robert Sampson, who say that

If the chancel be lengthened 12 feet, it will be to the damage of the Abbot and Abbey because the said Abbot will not be able to have free ingress and egress for his carts and to carry his timber; and if Master Henry may enlarge the aisle as is aforesaid, and the wall of the church be made towards the high way (regalem viam), 2 carts will not be able to pass there at the same time, and this would be of the greatest harm on the market days of the said vill.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 30 Hen. III, No. 38.

Osbert Giffard and Alice Murdac.

Writ dated at Wudestock 24th July, 31 Hen. III [1247].

Sum of the lands of Alice Murdae and Osbert Giffard according to the extents made in divers counties.

In co. Glouc., 106s. 8d.; but out of this there is owing of rent 5s. to the sheriff of Glouc.

Sum total, £125 14s. 11d. ,, clear, £110 7s. 11d.

After the extent of the manor of Theaumes, in co. Somerset, comes the following:—

Osbert Giffard held I carucate of land and 28s. of rent of assize in Pinchecomb, in co. Glouc., of the King by socage; they are worth 5 marks, and he pays to the sheriff of Glouc. 5s. yearly.

The said Gilbert also had 40s, rent in the vill of Acton, and held them of Elias Giffard in co. Glouc.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 31 Hen. III, No. 41.

Bishop of Hereford.

Writ dated at Wudestoke 1st August, 31 Hen. III [1247].

The King to the sheriff of Gloucester.

Because the Bishop of Hereford planted the fruit now being in the land in the manor of Chiltham while he had that manor to farm of Us: therefore We command you to permit the said Bishop by his bailiff to gather that fruit and to do his will therein freely and without impediment.

And you shall also inquire in what state the said Bishop received the said manor, &c.

[Inquisition missing.]

Chan. Inq. p.m., 31 Hen. III, No. 49.

Goswitemill without Gloucester.

Writ dated at Westminster 23rd February, 35 Hen. III [1251].

Inquisition taken to ascertain how much the mill called Goswitemulne without Gloucester, which is in the hands of the King as his escheat, is worth per annum, &c., by the oath of Henry Haket, William de Helyon, Walter de Munstreworthe, Philip de Kynemeresbur', William de Langeford, John de Bosco, Symon de Matteresdon, Walter le Hare, Adam Letherhose, William Gerald, Peter de Commede, and Nicholas Moryn, who say that

The said mill is worth per annum 15s., and can be let to farm for that amount.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 35 Hen. III, No. 6.

Robert le Sauvage.

Writ dated at Ely 31st March, 35 Hen. III [1251].

Inquisition taken to ascertain by what service Robert le Sauvage and Matilda his wife hold I virgate of land in Twiggeworthe of the inheritance of the said Matilda, together with the service of carrying the King's writs, and whether it would be to the damage of the King if that service were remitted to the said Robert, by the oath of Henry de Droys, Geoffrey de Weston, Philip de Mattesdon, Henry Haket, Philip de Hatherleye, Robert de Le. . di de Bricthampton, William de Morcote, El[ias] de Oure, John Nichole, and William Gerand, who say that

The said Robert le Sauvage and Matilda his wife hold the said virgate of land by the service of 5s. per annum, and by the service of carrying writs throughout the county of Gloucester. And that the King would not suffer any damage if that service were remitted to the said Robert, except on the occasions when the said Robert should be molested by the sheriff of Gloucester.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 35 Hen. III, No. 29.

[Part of this Inquisition is torn away, but it is thought safe to read it as above.]

Philip Whyyer.

Writ dated at Rading 29th July, 35 Hen. III [1251].

Inquisition taken at St. Briavells by Sir J. son of Geoffrey, Justice of Ireland, on Thursday next after the feast of St. Peter ad Vincula, 35 Hen. III [1251], to ascertain in what manner Philip Wyyer held his land and mills in Newelande and in the vill of St. Briavell, who enfeoffed him, &c., by the oath of Henry Haket, William le bret, Philip bandron. John de Malemord, Roger Wyyer, John son of Peter, Richard Hurel, John son of Richard, Walter Wyyer, John Godwy, Gilbert Noee, and Nigel Abraham, who say that

Philip Wyyer holds I carucate of land of the hilly and poor land in Newelande, of the gift of Hugh his father, for which the said Hugh was wont to pay to the King yearly the rent of 8s., and by doing suit at the court of St. Briavell. The said Hugh enfeoffed the said Philip of the said land, and he holds it by the said rent and service.

John Tenterer and Roger Loreman sold to Philip Wyver the site of a mill in Newelande, for which site the said John and Roger made a fine with R. Passelewe, and afterwards the said Philip built the mill and paid for the same half a mark yearly.

The said John and Roger enfeoffed the said Philip of the said site. The said mill is worth per annum 20s., whereof the said

Philip paid to the King yearly half a mark.

The said Philip bought of Philip Martin certain land wherein was found a place to build the mill, and because the land of the King, being hilly, waste and uncultivated, was thereto contiguous, the said Philip held a communication with Sir P. Schaceport, keeper of the Castle of St. Briavell and of the forest of Dene, and with his bailiffs, in order that he might take 4 perches of land in length and I in breadth of the said waste land to make a pool for the mill, and a new rent to be paid to the King therefor; and because the said Sir P. Chaceport and his bailiffs by inquisition made in full court as to the value of the said perches found that by giving them up they would improve the manor of St. Briavell by the increased yearly rent of half a mark, they granted the same to him for half a mark per annum.

The said mill is worth yearly 20s., whereof the said Phillip paid to the King yearly half a mark, where formerly he was wont to take nothing.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 35 Hen. III, No. 45.

Abbot de Persour.

Writ dated at Westminster 26 February, 36 Hen. Ill [1252].

Inquisition taken by the Mayor and bailiffs of Bristol to ascertain whether it would be to the hurt of the vill of Bristol if there were a market on Monday at the manor of Haukesbur', which is of the Abbot of Persouere, and if there were a fair there on the feast of St. Matthew in the autumn, by the oath of William de Feria, clerk, John de Ley, William Burer, Nicholas de Marina, Gilbert de Marina, Walter de Wyntona, Roger Clericus, Hugh de Lee, Henry de Stocha, Thomas de Marleberge, and Richard le Lov, who say that

It would not be to the hurt of the vill of Bristol in any way if there were a market at the said manor of Haukesbur' on Monday, and a fair on the said feast of St. Matthew.

Chan. Ing. p.m., 36 Hen. III, No. 12.

Galfrid de Erchebau.

Writ dated at Windsor 15 April, 36 Hen, III [1252].

nquisition made before the Abbot of Persor by Walter Lohaut, Ancelin' de Cernaye, Rond'm de Cotes, Philip de Cuberleg', Richard de Campden, John le Frankelayn, Geoffrey de Stratton, Symon de Stokes, John de Shipton, Robert de Solariis, Walter de Cumpton,

Richard de la Hyde, and Ralph son of Philip, who say that Geoffrey Erkebaud, Richard de Pyrye, and their predecessors never did homage or relief to the King for the tenements they hold in Cyrencester by serjeanty after King Richard, uncle of the King that now is, gave the manor of Cyrencester to the Abbot and Convent of Cyrencester; but the serjeanty, to wit, of conducting the King's treasure, which used to belong to the tenement of the said Richard, and whereof the King was in seisin by the said Richard, was arrented in the time of Henry de Wengeham at 1 mark per annum, whereof the King was ever after in seisin.

The said Geoffrey Erkembaud and his predecessors never did homage or relief to the King for the tenements the said Geoffrey holds in Cyrencester by the serjeanty of keeping 2 or 3 greyhounds at the will of the King; and because they never kept them the King impleaded Richard Erkembaud, father of the said Geoffrey, who died while the said plea was pending.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 36 Hen. III, No. 42b.

William de Valencia.

Writ dated at Hertford 23rd September, 36 Hen. III [1252].

nquisition made before A. de Hustede, sheriff of Gloucester, 36 Hen. III [1252], to ascertain what liberties Sir William de Valencia, brother of the King, and his bailiffs occupied in co. Glouc., and what impediments they caused the King's sheriff and bailiffs in the execution of their office. The jurors [names not given] say that Robert de Pundelarg used to make suit of Wlfrichethrop at the King's barton without the vill of Gloucester, and pay 10s. of yearly rent at the said barton and 8d. of view of frankpledge yearly. And when the King taxed his demesne the lord of Ulvrichesthrop used to be taxed. And the King was wont to have the mercy (misericord) of those selling ale against the assize in the said vill of Wlvrichesthrop, and all the aforesaid are now withdrawn.

The said William de Valencia will not permit the sheriff of Gloucester or his bailiffs to cause the summons of the Exchequer to be levied, nor to do any of the King's business in any place in co. Glouc. where the said William has lands. From the vill of Mortun the said Robert de Pundelarg' with all the free and customary tenants were wont to come to the hundred of Wystay twice a year, concerning the King's peace, and the lord and all the free tenants of the said vill ought to be in the assize and jury, and the sheriff of Gloucester used often to entertain (hospitare) at the court of the said Robert de Pundelarg' in his bailiwick; and now all these things are withdrawn.

The Lord of Waddum in the time of Robert de Pundelarg', and all the free tenants of the said vill, and 4 customary tenants, with the reeve and all the customary tenants at the will of the sheriff, were wont to do suit yearly at each hundred and to pay I mark of the view of frankpledge of the said vill and to do suit at the county, and the sheriff ought to plead all the plea touching his office: all which things are now withdrawn.

And when John le Flemming was sheriff of Gloucester he took I mark of the view of frankpledge of the township of Waddun, which was withdrawn in the time of R. de Cromhale.

Prior de Lantony.

Writ dated at Wudestok 9th August, 51 Hen. III [1267].

Whereas Our burgesses of Gloucester at Our command have lately made a ditch about the said vill, by reason of which ditch and of Our castle there certain buildings of the Prior of Lantony have been pulled down, whereby he loses the rents thereof, and a church has been obstructed, &c.: Now We, willing to recompense him for such loss, command you to inquire what buildings, &c., were pulled down, &c.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester by command of the King on the day of St. Bartholomew, 51 Hen. III [1267], by the oath of Richard le Blund, Hugh de Kingesham, William de Watford, Robert de Putteley, Walter de Saundon, William de Soundhurst, John Cornub', James le Ferur, John le Wise, John le Sureis, Henry Smart, [and] Richard le Symphanur, who say that

The said Prior sustained damage yearly of rents of assize by reason of the castle aforesaid to the amount of 31s. 10d., to wit, for the houses which used to stand before the castle and are now pulled down; and the damage of the said Prior by the said castle, to wit, of the houses of his weir next the said castle which were burnt, and for a building thrown down and the timber carried away, besides the rent of assize, £8 6s. 8d. And the said Prior will sustain damage by occasion of the said ditch of rents of assize 42s. 4d. As to the obstruction of the church of St. Kineburge, they say there are 2 doors there, and that I door has been obstructed by the said ditch, but they cannot estimate the damages, but it must be at the will of the King.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 51 Hen. III, No. 45.

Prior of Lanthony.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester on Tuesday in the week of Easter, 52 Hen. III [1268], before the Sheriff of Gloucester in the presence of Sir Richard de Hereford, clerk of the King's Exchequer, as to the values of the meadows of Southmede and Waleham which the King granted to the Prior and Convent of Lanthony without Gloucester in exchange for a meadow of the said Prior under the Castle of Gloucester, by the oath of Philip de Hatherleg', Philip de Mattresdon, Robert de Ledene, Henry de Myrwent, Richard Thoky, Robert de Grava, William de Ryuns, Ernisius de Brocwurth, William Gerand, William Jungeleys (Innegeleys), William de la Plocke, and William de Sandhurst, clerk, who say that

The said 2 meadows contain 62 acres, to wit, the meadow of Southmede 46 acres, and the meadow of Waleham 16 acres, and that each acre thereof is worth per annum 2s., according to the true extent. Sum, £6 4s.

Chan. Ing. p.m., 52 Hen. III, No. 21.

Abbot of Pershore.

Inquisition made before the sheriff on Monday next after the feast of St. Bartholomew, 52 Hen. III [1268], whether it would be to the damage of the King, or to the hurt of his weir near the weir of the Abbots of Persore and Flaxeleg' at Langeneye, if the King gave them permission to repair the said weir, the greater part whereof has been destroyed by the inundation of the Severn, and to keep it in repair, by the oath of Simon de Froundade, Richard Pache, Roger de Quedefleg', Peter de Estoneston, John Agu', Richard de Seyntbude, Robert Wye, John de Albehale, William Oppenhulle, John de Sully, Henry Cadel, William le Faukener, Ralph Barun, Simon de Solers, Richard Cadel, Robert Mordefreit, Roger de Bosco, Henry fil' clerici of Radleg', Walter Cole, and Roger de Pudiford, who say that

It would be to the damage of the King's weir if their weir should be repaired, by common estimation to the value of 4s., because each weir injures the other. They held their weir from time immemorial, and it was destroyed for the greater part by the inundation and freezing of the ice 35 years ago.

Adam de Ardern.

Inquisition taken before the sheriff on the day of All Souls, 53 Hen. III [1268], as to what customs and services are owing to the King for 2 virgates of land which Adam de Ardern holds of the King in Colverdon and Walesworth within the King's manor of Barton without Gloucester, and how much those customs and services are worth per annum if turned into money, and whether it would be to the damage of the King or to the hurt of the said manor if the King were to grant to the said Adam that he should pay to the King by the year for those customs and services the value thereof in money, and if so to what damage and hurt, by the oath of Philip de Hatherl', Philip de Matesdon, Robert de Leden, Robert Keys, Henry de Marewent, Richard Toky, Hugh de Brithampton, William de Beneteham, Elias de Brithampton, Thomas Lony, Reginald de Brithampton, Henry Celestre, and William Geraunt, who say that

The said Adam holds of the King within the said manor in Colverdon 1 virgate of land, and pays per annum 10s.; and another virgate of land in Walesworth, and pays per annum 20s.; and for the said 2 virgates he owes suit at the King's court at Barton aforesaid, and is worth per annum 2s.; and he will carry the writs within the county, to which writs he will have no answer, and worth per annum 2s.; and he owes tallage for the said 2 virgates of land when it happens at the will of the lord.

And if the King grants to the said Adam that he may hold the said land for the said service, it will not be to the damage of the King or to the hurt of the said manor.

Walter Wyther.

Incluisition made at Gloucester on Sunday next before the feast of the Apostles Simon and Jude, 54 Hen. III [1269], before Roger de Clifford, junior, justice of the forest on this side the Trent, as to how much land Walter Wyther, lately deceased, held of the King in chief in his bailiwick, and how much of others, and by what service, &c., by the oath of Philip de Hatherle, Robert de Ledone, John de Auste, Thomas Warin, William Joce, Walter de Blakeneve, Philip Baderun, William Bret, junior, Philip Bissohp, Ely de Heydon, Hur' de Dene, and John Malemort, who say that

The said Walter held of the King in chief I messuage, 6s. of yearly rent, and 12 acres of land in the vill of St. Bravello, by the service of finding one servant on foot in the said forest for the custody thereof; also 12 acres of land in Caldewelle, paying therefor yearly to the castle of St. Bravello 4s.; the said acres are worth per annum 12s.; and the said messuage with the said 12 acres of land in St. Bravello is worth per annum, clear, 12s.; also 12 acres of land in Huwaldrefeld of the Abbot of Tinterne by the service of 1d. by the year—they are worth per annum, clear, 12s.; also at Lydeneye I messuage, ½ a virgate of land, and ½ a mark of yearly rent: the said messuage and land are worth per annum 6s.; and he held those tenements in Lydeneye of the Prior of Lyra, paying therefor by the year 12d.

The said Walter died on Tuesday, viz., on the morrow of St. Michael last past; and on the Sunday next preceding there came to him William Buter, who married the second (postnatam) daughter and one of the heirs of the said Walter, and took from him the enfeoffment of the bailiwick of the said serjeanty; and on the morrow, to wit on the feast of St. Michael, he went into the said forest as a serjeant, taking seisin of the said serjeanty by going into the forest in that way; but after that the said Walter had made the said feoffment he did not rise from his bed of the sickness whereof he died, nor long before. They say also that on the said Sunday the said Walter, lying on his bed of sickness in that state, made a certain feoffment to William, second (postnato) son of the said William Buter, of his said lands and tenements in Lydeneye and Caldewell. And the jurors being asked what seisin the said William had of the said lands and tenements before the death of the said Walter say that he had no seisin of the lands of Caldewall before the death of the said Walter; but after his death the friends of the said William, who is a boy and under age, put themselves into seisin of the said lands in the name of the said boy, and still use the same seisin. They also say that the said Walter, being in the same condition, died in his messuage at Lydeneye to which his lands in the same belong, whereof the said boy had no seisin before the death of the said Walter, except that William Wyther on the day of St. Michael took the said rent of a mark in the said vill to the use of the said boy. And so contention arose between the heirs of the said Walter and the said William Buter and William his son as to the said serjeanty and the said lands in Caldewelle and Lydeneve. As to the other lands and tenements in Huwaldesfeld and in the vill of St. Briavello, the said Walter died thereof seised in full in his demesne as of fee.

The next heirs of the said Walter are Sibill, wife of Robert de Brimeshope, eldest daughter of the said Walter, and Elizabeth, wife of William Buter, second daughter of the said Walter; they are both aged 26 years and more.

Prior of Lanthony.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester on Monday next after the feast of St. Gregory, 54 Hen. III [1270], before Adam de Greimull and Peter de Chaunent, by the oath of Philip de Mattresdon, Philip de Heytherleye, Robert de la Grave, Henry de Brichamton, Peter Damisele, Reginald de Brichamtone, William de la Plocke, John de Vinea, Adam de Uske, William de Benetham, William de Rynn, William Geraud, and Nicholas de Broctworth, whether the Prior and Convent of Lanthony at any time had a certain weir in the water of the Severn under their said priory; and if so, from what time, in what way, and by whose collation, and whether it be to the damage of the King and to the hurt of his weirs in the said water, and to what damage and hurt, who say that

At one time they had there a pool of wood (stagnum ligneum) and 1 mill situated there, of the collation of Walter Constable and Margery de Bohun, founders of the Castle of Gloucester and the said priory, and there they laid "Burochios" and other engines to take the fish. They say it is not to the hurt of the King or his weirs in the said water, because there are 3 weirs situated between that weir and the weir of the King next the sea.

Petronilla la Marescall.

Writ dated October, 54 Hen. III.

Inquisition made at Chilteham by command of the King on Sunday next before the feast of St. George the Martyr, 55 Hen. III [1271], before the bailiff of the lord Abbot of Fiscamp, by the oath of John de Alre, William son of William, William Wyberd, Walter Katelme, John de Schalar, John Kynefar, Simon de Molendin, John de Swindon, Elured de Swindon, Thomas de Overehusse, Thomas Snel, John son of John, Walter son of William, who say that

The manor of Kings Cherleton was given to Sir Walter de Esseleye by the lord Richard, King of England, by his charter, which said Sir Walter died without heirs of his body, and the said manor descended to Mabel Kenel as his sister and heir. The said Mabel had a daughter Sabina de Hortyey, and the said Sabina had a daughter named Petronilla. And they say that Mabel, heir of the said Walter de Esseleye, gave that manor to Sir William Mareshall in free marriage with the said Petronilla, daughter of the said Sabina del Ortiheye. The said manor is not of the inheritance of the said William Mareshall.

Gloucester Burgesses.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester on Thursday next after the feast of St. Nicholas, 54 Hen. III [1269], before Adam de Greymull, by the oath of Philip de Hatherle, Philip de Materesdon, Rebert de Ledene, Robert Keys, Henry de Lesseberewe, Henry Maurewent, Roger de Quedesle, Richard Toky, William de la Plukke, William de Rynn, Ernisius de Brokworth, Robert de Suenton, William de Benetham, Peter de Esteneston, Reginald de Brythampton, William le Faukener, Ralph Barun, and Hugh de Brythampton, whether the burgesses of the vill of Gloucester and their ancestors heretofore had common of pasture in the meadow of Suthmede, and in what other meadow without the Castle of Gloucester, after the hay of those meadows had been carried, which common Peter de Chaunent, constable of the said castle, lately took into the hand of the King; and also from what time and in what way they had the same, who say that

Walter, Constable of England, who made the said Castle of Gloucester, gave to the Prior of Lanthony and to the Convent the said meadow under the said castle which is called Presteneham, and then and before, from time immemorial, the burgesses of Gloucester had common in the said meadows of Presteneham and Suthmede immediately after the hay was carried, so that if any beasts were found depasturing or doing damage there it was lawful for the keepers of the said meadows to impark those beasts, and to take reasonable amends for the damage done to the hay. And the said burgesses always enjoyed that common peaceably successively from year to year until the coming of Sir Roger de Clifford, who kept the said castle on behalf of the King at the end of the war and impeded the said burgesses for some time, so that they could not have common as they were wont to have; but directly after peace was made they had their common from year to year as before, as well in the time of Adam de Greymull and Reginald de Acle as of Matthew Besylle, constable of the said castle after the time of the said Roger, and so they continued their seisin until the said Peter de Chaunent unjustly kept them out of the said common this year last past.

Henry de Burnehull.

Inquisition made at Westbury before Sir William Maunsel, under escheator of the King in co. Gloucester, on Monday next before the feast of St. Barnabas the Apostle, 55 Hen. III [1271], concerning the 3rd part of the manor of Westbury, by the oath of Elias de Heydene, Henry de Keodleye, Henry Cadel, William de la Hyde, John Holt, Robert Jordan, Roger Martin, William de la Grove, Richard Carpenter, John de Holesdon, Thomas Parys, and Robert Passemer, who say that Basilia de Burnhull by her charter enfeoffed Henry de Burnhull, her younger son, of the 3rd part of the manor of Westbury, viz., on condition that if the said Henry should die without heirs of his body begotten, then the said 3rd part with other lands and tenements should revert to the said Basilia or her heirs. The said Henry after the Birth of Our Lord last past died without heirs of his body. by reason whereof the said 3rd part of the said manor ought to revert to Roger de Burnhull as son and next heir of the said Basilia, who is aged 40 years. The said 3rd part of the manor of Westbury is held of the King in chief by the service of the 3rd part of a red hawk (hostorii rubei), and is worth as follows, viz., I messuage with a garden, price 5s.; 140 acres of arable land, price of each acre 3d. Sum, 36s. 6d. [sic]. 10 acres of meadow, price of each acre 18d. Sum, 15s. 5 acres of pasture, price of each acre 6d. Sum, 2s. 6d. And of the rent as assize of the free tenants for the term of the Nativity of St. John the Baptist, 18s. 2d.; and for the term of St. Michael of the rents of the said tenants, 18s. 2d.; and for the term of the Purification of the Blessed Virgin of the rent of the said tenants, 18s. 2d. Sum of the rents of the free tenants, 54s. 6d. Of the rents and works of the rustics, viz., for the term of the Nativity of St. John the Baptist, 24s.; and for the term of St. Michael, 24s.; and for the term of the Purification of the Blessed Virgin, 24s. Sum, 72s. Of the perquisites of the court by the year, 5s., the sum whereof appears. The jurors also say that 10s, are of the aid of the rustics to be paid by the year at the feast of All Saints. And there are 6 acres of wood, price of each acre without waste 6d. Sum, 3s.

Sum of the whole exaction of the said 3rd part of this manor, £10 2s. Chan. Inq. p.m., 55 Hen. III, No. 29.

Roger de Auency, Carl of Winchester.

Inquisition taken before the sheriff on Friday next after the feast of St. Matthew the Apostle, 55 Hen. III [1271], as to what fees are held of R. de Quyncy, formerly Earl of Winchester, in chief, the custom whereof belongs to him; and what fees are held of the said Earl, the custody whereof belongs to the King by reason of the lands and tenements of those who hold those fees and who hold of the King in chief, and what they are worth by the year, &c.; and what advowsons of churches and alms belonged to the said Earl, and how much they are worth by the year, and who holds the same, &c., by the oath of Hugh de Chaveringworth, Geoffrey de Ullinton, Adam de Watlinton, Philip de Skesnecote, William Proll, John Burne, Walter de Bello Monte, Robert Topsy, Alexander de Chaveringworth, William de la Sale, Rondolph de Stok, and William Baryl, who say that Ernaldus de Bosco holds in co. Gloucester the manors of Ebryton, Newewrths, and Clopton in chief of the said Earl, and the custody thereof belongs to him, for 4 knights' fees, and by reason of those lands and tenements nothing belongs to the King, and by the service that the said Ernaldus should give to the said Earl yearly 12d. and I hound at Pentecost for the said fees and other fees in other counties, and owes 2 suits at the court of Leicester in the name of frank pledge by the year by himself or his attorney for all service.

The said Ernaldus holds of the said Earl Farncote, Gittinge, Cotteslete, and Caldecote for 3 knights' fees. By reason of those lands and tenements no custody belongs to the King, and he holds those manors by the said service and nothing of the King.

The said Earl of Winchester had no advowsons or alms in the county of Gloucester in the said fee.

Ralph Musard.

Inquisition made at Saynebyr' on Wednesday next before the feast of the Apostles Simon and Jude, 56 Hen. III [1271], before Master Roger de Crofte, clerk of Master Richard de Clifford, escheator on this side the Trent, as to the lands and tenements which were of Ralph Musard in Seynesbyr' in co. Gloucester, by Hugh de Chaveringworth, William de Aston, Adam de Watlinton, John Burne, John de Kedbroc, Walter Beumund, William de la Chambre, Robert Caspi, Henry Beumund, William de la Sale, Alexander de Chaveringworth, William Baril, Philip de Schesencote, John de Aston, Philip Beumund, Robert de Cumton, William Wetekin, William de Bradeweye, Robert Knyhteson, Ernald de Humburn, William de Weleye, and Roger Gile, who say that

The said Ralph held 2 parts of the manor of Seynesbyr' of the King in chief, and it belongs to the barony of the Musardere, and the capital messuage with the garden is worth per annum, clear, 10s. And there are there in the demesne 6 virgates of land, which are worth by the year with the park £6; price of the virgate 20s. And of the rents of assize of the free tenants 29s. 2d. by the year. And there are there $13\frac{1}{2}$ virgates of the villeinage, which are worth per annum £13 10s.; price of the virgate, 20s.

And a certain dovecote, which is worth by the year 3s. And a water-mill, which is worth by the year 13s. 4d. The pleas are worth by the year 10s.

He held of the King in chief the manor of the Musardere, which is worth by the year £7 15s. 3d., and the manor of Sudinton, which is worth by the year £7.

Nicholas Musard, brother of the said Ralph, is his next heir, and is aged 30 years and more.

Proof of age of Fulk (Fulconis) son of Warin.

Witnesses called to prove the lawful age of Fulk son of Warin, before the Council of the King at Westminster on Thursday next after the feast of St. Mark the Evangelist, I Edw. I [1273.]

Nicholas de Hanrede,* being sworn, says that he knows for certain that Fulk son of Warin, who now prays (seeks) for his inheritance, will be 22 years old on the day of the Exaltation of Holy Cross next coming, because in the 34th year of the reign of King Henry III he was sheriff of Berks, and on the Wednesday next after the said feast he was at Wanetinge in the house of Fulk, father of the said Fulk, where the report came to him that his wife had borne him a son, and the said Fulk must be that son because he knows of no other.

Geoffrey de Wauncy* is certain that the said Fulk will be 22 years old on the said feast, and this he knows by the common report of the country and by knights and other trustworthy people, and it was also told him by Geoffrey de Wauncy, his father, who, in the feast of St. Michael next after the said feast upon which the said Fulk was born, took a farm at Wanetinge for the term of 22 years, which said term will expire on the feast of St. Michael next coming.

Robert de Whytefeud* says that he believes the said Fulk to be about 22 years old because, 22 years ago, he was in the house of Ralph le Botiller at Wemmes, where a great number of knights and dames were invited, and it was then said that the mother of the said Fulk was not there because she was pregnant, but he does not know whether it was this child or another.

Peter de Grave says he knows the age of the said Fulk because ^{*} Knight written in the margin opposite each paragraph.

there was a disagreement between himself and Fulk, father of the said Fulk, which was settled at Wanetinge, and then came the report there of the birth of the said Fulk. He adds that his father and other friends were much congratulated because he had a son, and that all his other children were girls.

Peter de Offinton knows the age of the said Fulk by the death of his mother, who died then, and he then at Wanetinge asked for those things which were necessary for his mother's funeral, and then there came the report that a son had been born to Fulk, father of said Fulk, at Whytinton, who ought to be his heir.

William le Clothmongere says he knows the age of said Fulk because he was married on the feast of the Translation of St. Thomas the Martyr 20 years ago, at which time the said Fulk was 2 years ago except the term between the said feasts.

Walter le Waleys says that he took his land of Henneye about the quindene of Easter 22 years ago, and the said Fulk was born at Whytinton on the feast of the Exaltation of Holy Cross last preceding. Witness was at the fairs at Waneting on the feast of St. Faith next after the said feast when Simon le Clerk told him of the birth of the said Fulk.

Richard de Pavelly says that he came back from the Holy Land 8 days before the feast of the Nativity of the Blessed Mary, now 22 years ago, when a year before Louis, King of the French, was taken by the enemies of the Cross of Christ at Damieta in the Holy Land; and after his coming into England, in the feast of the Exaltation of Holy Cross, viz., within a quindene after his arrival, he was at Wanetinge, where he heard of the birth of [the] said Fulk. Emma his mother died on the feast of St. Andrew next following the said feast.

John de Budyford says that Margery his mother died on the feast of the Translation of St. Thomas the Martyr 22 years ago. On the feast of the Exaltation of Holy Cross next following he was at Bristol, where he heard the report of the birth of the said Fulk at Whytinton. At that time he lived at Bristol, and Jordan de Budeford his father had the manor of Hauekesbir' next to the manor of the said Fulk's father of Aleweston, and the said Jordan was the counsellor (consiliarius) of the father of said Fulk.

Bartholomew de Érleve says that Giles de Erleve his father died in the feast of Easter 21 years ago, and on the said feast of the Exaltation of Holy Cross last preceding he was with his said father at Erleve, where they heard of the birth of the said Fulk.

Henry de Gopshull says that Sarra de Grave his grandmother died on the feast of St. Faith now 22 years ago, and he took the inheritance of the said Sarra. On the Wednesday next before the said feast of the Exaltation of Holy Cross he was at Wanetinge, when news of the birth of the said Fulk was brought to him by William Pymor, messenger of the father of the said Fulk.

Walter, son of Henry le Clerc, of Waneting, says that the right heir of Fulk son of Warin is dead. Witness adds that at that time he was with William, Earl of Ferrers, out of whose household he took a wife, by whom he had a daughter, who was born 3 days before the feast of the Exaltation of Holy Cross now 22 years ago, upon which feast the said Fulk was born at Whitinton, as William Pymor told him at Wanetinge.

William Maudut.

Inquisition taken before the Sheriff of Gloucester on Wednesday next after the feast of St. Gregory the Pope, 2 Edw. I [1274], by the oath of Walter de Salle, John de Stanhuse, Simon de Fremylade, William le Despenser, Henry le Freman, Roger de Quedeslegh, Peter de Estaneston, William de Wike, Walter de Benhale, Richard Page, Walter Aunfrey, and William de Penbrok, as to whether the virgate of land which William Maudit, who was hanged for a felony, held in Cleyhanger was in the King's hand for I year and I day or not, what it was worth by the year, &c., who say that

The said William Maudit held one half virgate of land in Cleyhanger of the Abbey of St. Peter, Gloucester, and that it is worth per annum ½ a mark, and was in the King's hand for 1 year and 1 day. And Peter de Chauvent, then Sheriff, who now holds that land, ought to answer to the King from the said year and day.

Inquisition made by command of the King before the Sheriff of Gloucester as to ½ a virgate of land in Bevleye which William Maudit held by the oath of Thomas de la Wodende, William le Serjaunt de Slymbrugge, Walter de Gosynton, William de Gosynton, Elias le Wilde, Thomas de Beleye, Thomas de Swonhungre, Greffrey Neel, Peter Jake, Walter Passelewe, Walter Symond, Walter Aunfray, Peter de Esteneston, who say that

The said ½ virgate of land in Beleye was in the hand of Sir Peter de Chauvent, then Sheriff of Gloucester, who seised it in the name of the King, and the said William held the same of Sir Robert de Kyngeston. And the said Peter had a year and a day in the name of the King, for which he ought to answer to the King.

Inquisition made by the same jurors as to 9 acres of land and 3 acres of meadow in Beleye which the said William Mauduht held.

The said jurors say that the said land and meadow were in the hand of the said Peter de Chauvent, who seised them in the name of the King, and held them of Peter de Styntescumbe. And the said Peter had a year and a day in the name of the King, wherefore he ought to answer to the King.

Inquisition made by the said jurors as to 8 acres of land in Bradeneston and 4 acres of land, 1 acre of meadow, and 1 acre of wood in Beleye which the said William Mauduht held.

The said jurors say that the said 8 acres of land in Bradeston and 1 acre of land, 1 acre of meadow, and 1 acre of wood in Beleye were in the hand of the said Peter de Chauvent, who seised them in the name of the King and held them of Robert de Bradeston. The said Peter had a year and a day in the name of the King, for which he is answerable to the King. The jurors know nothing about the three acres of land, the residue of the land in Beleye.

Inquisition made by the said jurors as to I virgate of land in Baggepathe which the said William Mauduyt held.

The jurors say that the said William Mauduyt held I virgate of land and I messuage in Baggepathe of William de Shokerwakes, and they were in the hand of the King for I year and I day, and Peter de Chauvent, who now holds them, ought to answer to the King for the said year and day.

Inquisition made by the same jurors as to 2 messuages and 2 virgates of land which the said William Mauduyt held in Belegh and la Plannche.

The said jurors say that the said William held I messuage and I virgate of land in Belegh of Henry de Berekeleg, and they were in the hand of the King for I year and I day, and are worth per annum, clear, 30s. Peter de Chauvent, who now holds the said messuage and land, ought to answer to the King for the said year and day.

The said William held I virgate of land in la Planche of the said Henry de Berekelegh and I messuage, and they were in the King's hand for I year and I day, and are worth per annum 20s. And the said Peter ought to answer for them to the King.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 6 Edw. I, No. 18.

William de Hasting.

Writ dated at Wyndesor, 13 July, 6 Edw. I [1278].

Inquisition made by the oath of Robert de Evereus, Robert Belewe, Adam de Budeford, John le Mazun, Hugh de la Cote, Richard Morcl, William Segre, William le Keu, Richard de Thormerton, Robert le Eyr, John de Calne, and William de la Cote of the lands and tenements which were of William de Hasting in co. Glouc., who say that

The said William de Hasting at one time held of the King in chief the manors of Thormerton and Suthrop in the said county by the service of 1 knight or 2 esquires for 40 days whenever and wherever the King shall be in his army at his own proper costs for all service and for other lands which he held of the King.

The manor of Thormerton is worth by the year, clear, £6 13s. 4d., and the manor of Suthrop £10.

Seven years ago the said William de Hasting gave the said manors to Benedict de Blakeham in free marriage with Joan his daughter and next heir; which said Benedict held the same for nearly 2 years until he demised the same to the said William for the term of his life by cirograph levied between them in the court of the King, paying therefor yearly to the said Benedict 1 pair of gloves or 1d. at Easter for all service.

The said Joan is now aged 23 years.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 6 Edw. I, No. 22.

Walter de Aure.

Inquisition made before Ralph de Sandwyco, steward of the King, at Aure, in the morrow of St. Laurence the Martyr, 6 Edw. I [1278], by the oath of Elias de Heydon, Thomas Waryn, William ate Hulle, William de Staure, John le Bley, John de la Boxe, Henry de Crumpe, Thomas de Blakenay, John le Scot, William son of Matilda, Stephen Malemort, William son of Ralph, and Robert Leward of Aure, who say that Walter de Aure held his land of Aure in the Forest of Dene of the King in chief on the day that he died by the service of serjeanty, to wit, to be in the chamber of the King to serve him whensoever it shall please the King, but of what service they are ignorant. The said land is worth per annum, clear, 19 marks.

And moreover he held of Robert Andelyn I water mill in fee farm, paying therefor to the said Robert and his heirs 40s. And the said mill is worth by the year besides the said fee farm I mark.

And moreover he held of Philip Baderun I small grove by the yearly rent of 2d., and it is worth per annum 6d.

He did not hold anything else of the King or others in his demesne as of fee either in the Forest of Dene or elsewhere on the day that he died.

John, his first born son, is his next heir, and is aged τ year and more.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 6 Edw. I, No. 57.

John Bleyght.

Writ dated at Gloucester, 8 August, 6 Edw. I [1278].

nquisition made before Ralph de Sandwico, steward of the lord, by the command of the King and by the oath of Ralph de Abbenhale, forester of the fee, Henry de Dene, serjeant of the fee, William Hayewy, chief serjeant of the fee, Thomas Warin, serjeant of the fee, Elias de Herdon, verderer, William de la Hulle, verderer, William de Staure, serjeant of the fee, Richard de Alnecone, Richard Equitator, William Joce, forester of the fee, Robert Giffard of Neweham, and William le Blund of the same, who say that Alexander Bleyt had I bailiwick in the Forest of Dene which is called Bleytyesbayllye from the first Conquest, and held the same on the day that he died, and after the death of the said Alexander John Bleyt his son and heir remained in the wardship of the King because he was under age; and he being so under age, King Henry gave to the Abbot and Convent of Flexleye, in exchange for I workshop, 2 parts of the said bailiwick, which 2 parts are worth by the year 2 marks. The King had no damage by reason of that gift, because the said Abbot of Flexley remised to the King and his heirs 2 oaks, which they were wont to take every week in the said forest of the gift of the Kings of England, ancestors of the King that now is.

The said John Bleyt sustained damage by reason of the gift aforesaid to the value of 28 marks during the 14 years that he has held the said land, viz., 4 marks by the year.

The said John Bleyt does suit and service fully for the 3rd part of his bailiwick, as his ancestors formerly did for the whole bailiwick.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 6 Edw. I, No. 88.

Kalph le Botyller.

Inquisition made before Adam le Botiler, sheriff of Gloucester, and Peter de la Mare, Constable of the Castle of Bristol, on the day of St. Gregory, 6 Edw. He also held of the King in chief the manor of Weston sub Egge with the advowson of the church of the same, and the said manor is worth per annum, clear, £42 1s.

The said Walter held the said manors of Norton and Weston sub Egge by $\frac{1}{2}$ a knight's fee.

Godfrey, Bishop of Worcester, is his next heir, and is of full age. Chan. Ing. p.m., 7 Edw. I, No. 22.

Richard Talbot.

Inquisition made at Bikenor on Friday next before the feast of St. Margaret the Virgin, 7 Edw. I [1279], before Roger de Clifford, justice of the forest, by Sir Henry de Dene and William Hachewy, foresters of the same, Robert Malet and William de la Hulle, verderers, Hamond de Bifar, John Clericus de Teynton, William Godwine, William de Irreby, Thomas Warin, Robert Jurdan, Henry de Walford, and William Moldesone, jurors, if Richard Talbot and his ancestors have always hitherto been wont to have freely and without impediment of any common of pasture in the wood of the Abbot of Flaxle, which is within the metes of the Forest of Dene, as belonging to his free tenement in Longehope, who say that

That wood was at one time the demesne wood of the King up to the time that King Henry, father of the King that now is, gave the said wood to the said Abbot in frankalmoign, but whether the ancestors of the said Richard had common of pasture in the same before the said gift they do not know, but after the said King gave the said wood to the said Abbot and Convent, and granted to them by his charter that they might enclose the same with ditch and hedge, saving to the King his venison, neither the said Richard nor his ancestors had free common there without hindrance, but his beasts were always wont to be impounded by the said Abbot. And whether the common of pasture in the same wood belongs to his tenement of Longehope they do not know.

Aicholas, son of Kalph de Kyncleye.

Inquisition made before Ralph de Sandwyco at Bristol on Monday next after the feast of St. Matthew the Apostle, 8 Edw. I [1280], by Robert de Coueley, Robert de Wolepenn, Ralph

who say that

Ralph son of Nicholas, father of Nicholas, son of Ralph de Kyneleye, who is under age and in the wardship of the King, appointed secular chaplains in his free chapel of Kynelye in his manor of Nemenesfelde, as his ancestors heretofore had been wont to make, and the said chaplains are enfeoffed of the demesne lands of the ancestors of the said Nicholas in the said vill, and they hold nothing else.

Neither Walter de Cantilupe, formerly Bishop of Worcester, nor any other Bishop there, ever in times past were in the possession of the making of religious or a warden there, nor had the advowson of the said chapel or exercised ordinary jurisdiction in it by themselves or by their ministers at any time, nor by making any visitation or excommunicating the said chaplains or sequestrating their goods, saving that Godfrer, now Bishop of Worcester, while the said Nicholas was in the wardship of the King and under age, came there and wrongfully made a visitation, as they understand.

[Endorsed.] Let the King have the estate which the father of the said heir had of those things contained in the inquisition until the lawful age of the heir, saving the right of the Bishop when the heir shall come of age, who opposed himself and challenged the inquisition.

The Abbot of Gloucester.

Writ dated 20 March, 9 Edw. I [1281], directed to Ralph de Sandwyco, the King's steward, commanding him to go personally to the wood of the Abbot of St. Peter of Gloucester of Hope Maloysel, which is within the metes of the Forest of Dene, to see whether it would be to the damage of the King, or of the said forest, or of the men of those parts, if the King granted to the said Abbot that he might make trenches there, &c.

Ralph de Sandwyco in propriâ persona went to the wood of the Abbot of St. Peter of Gloucester of Hope Moloysel and learnt from the foresters and verderers and other lawful men of those parts, and by his own view, that it would not be to the damage or hurt of the King, or of his Forest of Dene, or of the men of those parts, if the King should grant to the Abbot of Gloucester to cut down that wood in 4 years by quarters and to take his profit thereof, because that wood is old underwood and thick, and less fit for the beasts to feed in than the wood which would grow anew, and that as well wolves, as injurers of the venison, frequently return for the venison and stay in the said wood on account of the thickness thereof, so nevertheless that each quarter shall be enclosed with a low hedge (bassahaye) for 3 years, so that our beasts may go in and out, so that if the cattle of the men of those parts should enter that wood for default of enclosure they shall not be impounded on this account.

The said Abbot should have his profit of the sale of the wood of each quarter to the value of 100s.

Bogo de Knobile.

Inquisition made before Ralph de Sandwyco, steward of the demesnes of the King, on Tuesday next after the Purification of the Blessed Mary, 9 Edw. I [1281], by the oath of Robert de Ledene, Robert Malet, Elias de Heydon, William de la Hulle, Roger le Bret, verderers, Henry de Dene, Knight and Serjeant of the Fee, William Hathewy, William de Stauri, Robert de Aure, Thomas Warin, Serjeant of the Fee, Richard le Venur, horseman (equitator), and Thomas de Bolesdon, who say that If the King granted to Bogo de Knovile his great wood of Kille-kote, which is within the Forest of Dene, to sell and to take his profit thereof, it would be to the damage of the King and the hurt of the said forest, but to what damage and hurt they do not know, but they say that if the King granted to the said Bogo to sell his said wood he would lose all the attachments of the said wood of the verderers who were wont and ought to plead before the justices of the pleas of the forest, and to be there amerced. He would also lose the repair of his beasts which came and went.

If pannage should happen in the forest and the said Bogo should "agist" the pigs in his said wood before the King should "adjist" the pigs in his demesne, then the King should have the attachment of the pigs which were found in the wood of the said Bogo, and should thereof do his will.

The said wood contains in itself $21\frac{1}{2}$ acres, whereof 20 perches are outside the cover.

Ela, Countess of Warwick.

Writ dated 10th October, 11 Edw. I [1283].

Inquisition made on Thursday next after the feast of St. Lucy the Virgin, 12 Edw. I [1283], by Robert de Everoys, Adam de Bedeford, William le Faukener, John le Machun, William son of William de Hampton, Richard Morel, John de Fraxino, John de Fizhide, John le Draper, John de la Wyke, John de Culne, and Robert son of Walter, whether it would be to the damage or hurt of the King or others if the King should grant that the Lady Ela, Countess of Warwick, may give to the Abbess of Lacok I messuage and 12 virgates of land in Hacherop, who say that

It would be to the damage of the King and the Abbot of Cirencester, because Sir Ingeramus le Walays, who gave the said tenement to the said Countess, and others who in times past held that tenement, were wont to be in the assizes and juries with other knights and free men of the country, and sometimes were amerced before the justices, the King was wont to have mercy from them. Also the tenants were wont to share that tenement with the hundred of Bristwoldesbor' when the said hundred happen to be amerced before the justices for murder. Those holding the said tenement were wont and ought to come twice in the year to the hundred of Bristwoldesbor' and to the hundred of Cyrencester, which hundreds the said Abbot holds of the King in fee farm, and to the afforcement to hear and do there the command of the King like the other free men of the hundred of Bristwoldesbor'.

The said tenement is held of the honor of Treubrigg in co. Lincoln, by what service is not known; it is worth per annum, clear, to marks.

Chan. Inq. p.m., II Edw. I, No. 92.

Ela, Countess of Warwick.

Inquisition made on Tuesday in the feast of the Exaltation of the Holy Cross, 11 Edw. I [1283], by command of the King at Estl.....the bailiff of the liberty of Cyrencester, by Robert de Evereus and others (as in previous Inquisition), whether it would be to the damage of the King and others if the King granted that the Lady Ela, Countess of Warwick, might give to the Abbess of Lacoc I messuage and 12 virgates of land in Ehrop, who say, &c. (as in previous Inquisition).

The said messuage and land were at one time of the whole of the manor of Ehrop, which manor is held of the honor of Tr...ry..., sometime of the Earl of Sarum, by what service is not known, and the said tenement with the said land is worth per annum, clear,..... marks.

Abbot of Flexleye.

Writ dated 25 July, 15 Edw. I, directed to Walter de Helyun and Geoffrey de Sandiacre, commanding them to ascertain the truth of the matter in dispute between the Abbot of Flexleye and Grimbald Pancefot as to a mine in the Forest of Dene.

Inquisition made at Gloucester before Walter de Helyun and Geoffrey de Sandiacre on Monday in the morrow of the Exaltation of Holy Cross, 15 Edw. I [1287], by the oath of John Wareyn, William Joce, foresters of the Forest of Dene, Roger le Brut, Alexander de Bikenovere, William le Fawkener, verderers of the said forest, Stephen Malemort, Nicholas son of Thomas, Adam le Pawmer, Thomas Jan, Adam de Kylpek, Richard de Heydone, Walter Aylwy, Elias de Heydone, clerk, Henry Cadel, William de Heydone and John de Denc, William de Stawre, and Robert le Lung, who say that

At the time when Thomas de Clare was keeper of the said Forest of Dene there came William de Abbenhale, Walter Page, and Elys Page, miners, and first when digging in the land of the Abbot of Flaxley at Ardlonde they found metal there. And the said Abbot. hearing of this, immediately removed the said miners and filled up the ditch of the said mine with stones and earth, so that before the said Abbot did this Jordan la Ware, constable of the said Thomas, came and took 4d, only of the issues of the said mine. The said Jordan, by a writ of the King obtained by the said Abbot, caused an inquiry to be made whether the said mine belonged to the King or not, and by the said inquisition he learnt that it did not belong to the said King, but to the said Abbot and convent of Flaxleie, and then the miners ceased to work there until the coming of Grimbald Pauncefot, keeper of the said forest, who again began to work there with certain of his miners, the said Abbot being unwilling. And he took of the issues in his time for his own use £6. And William de Staura took of the gift of the said Grimbald 10s. of the said issues. And William Hathewy of the gift of the same, 10s. And Walter son of Nicholas, Walter Holt, Walter Page, John Kinggot, Alexander Burgeis, Alexander Hok, John Jordan, and Gilbert Cameron, miners in the time of the said Grimbald of the profit, £4—viz., each of them 10s. And William Hathewy, now keeper of the said forest, continuing the working of the said Grimbald, took therefrom from the time of the death of the said Grimbald up to now 7s. 7d., and against the will of the said Abbot.

As to the estimation of the value of the said mine by the year, they say that it cannot be estimated because the metal is found casually and more often fails.

John, son of Ralph Musard.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester before William de Saham and John de Metyngham on Sunday in the octaves of Holy Trinity, 15 Edw. I [1287].

The sheriff was commanded to cause 12 men to come before the said William and John here at this day to recognize if John, son and heir of Ralph Musard, was born at the Musardere and baptized in the church of the said vill, and by reason of his minority was in the wardship of the King, and whether he is now of full age as he says or not, and to go to the said vill and church and inquire as to the truth of his age, and to cause the custodians of the land of the said heir to come here at this day to hear the said recognition, and to show if anything ought to stand in the way why the said John ought not to have his lands and tenements.

And the sheriff testifies that he caused William de Westinton and Amicia de Popham, custodians of the land of the said heir, to be told to be here on this day, and the said Amicia does not come, but the said William de Westinton comes and says nothing why the said heir should not have his lands, except only that the said John was born in the octaves of St. Hilary next after the siege of the castle of Kemssworth as he understands. And Geoffrey de Wroxhale, William de la Mare, knights, Richard de Bedefeld, Henry de Lepegate, Ralph Ferye, Richard de Bureyrde, Roger de Aldewyk, Henry Ychenard, Roger de Bles, William Clement, John de Frompton, clerk, and John de la Hyde, jurors, who say that

The said John Musard was born in the castle of the Musardere and baptized in the parish church of the said vill, and that the same John was aged 21 years in the feast of St. Wulstan—viz., in the octaves of St. Hilary last past.

The evidence of Sir G. de Brockeshale says that he recollects the age of said John because he was with Sir J. Giffard at Bremesfeld, and came to visit the castle of the Musadere in the year following the battle of Evesamye, and there he saw the mother of the said John and the said John, then an infant running with his said mother.

W. de la Mare says that he recollects by J. his son, who is younger than the said John by 1 year, who will be 21 years in the feast of St. Wulstan the Bishop next following, viz., in the quindene before the feast of the Purification of the Blessed Virgin.

Roger de Bles says he knows the age of the said John by his father having died in the feast of St. Bartholomew next after the said battle.

Ralph Ferri says he remembers it by a certain farm which he took from his father for the term of 25 years, and the said John was born in the third year after he took the said farm.

Richard de Bedefeld says in evidence that he was absent from the country when the said John was born, but he learnt by his stepmother that the said John was aged 22 years in the said feast of St. Wulstan.

Richard de Bureyrd says in evidence that he knows the age of the said John by Richard, his son, who was of the same age, and went to the Roman Court by command of Master Hugh de Evesham, Cardinal of the Pope, and the said Richard was aged 16 years when he went to the said Court, and it is about 6 years ago when he reached the said Court.

Henry de Lepegate says that J. his son, who is now 20 years old, is a year and a half younger than the said John.

William Clement says that he carried the said John from the baptismal font in the church of the Musardere.

John de la Hyde calls to mind the age of the said John by the age of Sybil his daughter, who will be 22 years old in the next feast of St. Peter Advincula, and who was born in the same year as the said John.

John de Frompton says that he went on an errand for Dame Cristian Musard to Ralph Musard, father of the said John, in the vigil of St. Wolstan the Bishop, and the said John was born on the following day, viz., the day of St. Wolstan [19 January], and the mother of the said John often called to mind his age on account of her sufferings at his birth.

Henry Ithenard says that Walter Ithenard, his father, died at the feast of St. John ante Portam Latinam [6 May] 22 years ago, and in the quindene next before the Purification of the Blessed Virgin next following the said J. Musard was born.

Roger de Aldewyk says that he was not in the country when the said John was born, but he learnt by Robert Faber of Smelrugg, who is of the parish of the Musardere, that the said John is of full age and more.

Edmund, Carl of Cornwall.

Inquisition made at Langeberwe on Saturday in the morrow of St. Gregory the Pope, 22 Edw. I [1294], before the Sheriff of Gloucester, by the oath of William de Aston Subegge, Henry de Chaveringworth, William de Cundicote, Nicholas de Stavelegh, John de Aston, Ralph de Leithe, John Burne, William de Hudicote, John de Chester of Brodecaumpeden, John de Grangia of Langeberwe, Henry de la Stone de Bachesovere, and Adam Roys of Langeberwe, if it be to the damage of the King or of others if the King should grant to Edmund, Earl of Cornwall, that he may give to the Abbot and Convent of Hayles 40 acres of pasture in Nethirswell, to be held of him and his successors, who say that

The said Edmund has nothing in the said vill of Nethirswell, except the said 40 acres of pasture, each acre whereof is worth per annum 3d. Sum, 10s. The said pasture is held of the King in chief, but by what service they do not know.

Sir Richard, father of the said Edmund, bought the said pasture, together with the manor of Swell, of Nicholas Poynt, and the said Nicholas held the said manor and pasture as a member of his barony, which he held of the King in chief, and he sold the said tenement to the said Richard to hold of the King in chief, without retaining anything to himself, by what service is not known. The said Edmund, by reason of the said pasture, cannot be put in any juries or assizes by reason of the smallness of the tenement. The said pasture does not owe any service to any except the King.

The said King is the next heir of the said Edmund, and the said pasture, after the decease of the said Edmund, ought to descend to the King by right of inheritance.

If the King should grant to the said Edmund that he might give the said pasture to the Abbot and Convent of Hayles, it would be to his disinheritance to the amount of 10s. per annum after the decease of the said Edmund.

The said grant would not be to the damage of any except of the King as is aforesaid.

William Potteslepe.

Inquisition taken at Grefton on Tuesday next after the feast of St. Edmund the Confessor, in the end of the 27th year of Edw. I [1299], by Odo de Dombleton, Henry de Brokhamton, Robert Dastin, Hugh de Aston, Thomas de Newenton, William de Gobhulle, Walter de Colne, Robert Bernard, William Beaufiz, Richard Luttlinton, Nicholas Mogge, and Geoffrey Clericus, who say that William de Poteslepe committed a felony, for the which he abjured the kingdom of England before the coroners of the lord the King, and he had I virgate of land in the vill of Poteslepe and no messuage, and it was in the hand of the King for I year and I day, and he held the said virgate of land of Master John de Solers, lord of Poteslepe, and it was delivered to the township of Poteslepe by the said coroners, and it now holds the said virgate, and ought to answer to the King for the year and the day.

John Watwepol.

Inquisition made at Wynth' before the sheriff of Gloucester by Henry de Cotes, Adam Sparuwe, Peter de Coulne, Robert de Aldrinton, Richard le Pestur, Henry Tinctor, William atte Hulle, Nicholas Molend' de Twenigg', Robert de Morcote, John de Clyve, Hugh le Dispenser, and Peter de la Fermer, to inquire if it be to the damage of the King of others if the King should grant to John Waupol of Wenlond that he may give one messuage and 2 virgates of land in Throp next Wynth' to the Abbot and Convent of Wynth' and to their successors for ever, who say that

It is not to the damage of the King or others, but rather to the advantage of the King, because at the time of the vacation of the Abbey of Wynth' the King will have the custody of that land, which formerly he had not. The messuage and land are held of the said Abbot of Wynch' and of no other by the service of 2s., so that in all issues beyond the said rent they are estimated to be of the value of 9s. 3d. by the year, and the lands and tenements which remain to the said John suffice to do the customs and services due as well for the aforesaid messuage and lands given as for other tenements retained by him, and for all other charges which they sustained and were wont to sustain, as in suits, to wit, views of frank pledge, aids, tallage, vigils, fines, redemptions, amercements, contributions, and other charges whatsoever issuing to be sustained. And the said John may be put in assizes, juries, and other recognizances whatsoever as he was wont to be put before the said gift, and that the county by the said gift or assignment shall not be charged more than is wont by the default of the said John.

The Abbot de la Bruere.

next before the feast of St. Dunstan the Archbishop, 27 Edw. I [1299], by Henry de Brochampton, William Dastyn of Werminton, Richard Dastyn of Grete, Robert de Chaveringworth, Henry de Cotes, Adam Sparwe of Sutleye, William, son of Thomas de Gretton, John de Bracebrugg' of the same, Richard de Pistrino of Wynchecumb, Henry le Teynturer of the same, William de Monte of Sutleye, Walter de Culne of Parva Werminton, to inquire whether it be to the damage of the King or others if the King should grant to the Abbot de la Bruere that he may give and assign I messuage, I carucate of land, and IO acres of wood in Cornden to the Abbot and Convent of Wynchecumb and his successors for ever, &c., who say that

It is not to the damage of the King or others if the King grants to the said Abbot de la Bruere that he may give I messuage, I carucate of land, and IO acres of wood in Cornden to the Abbot and Convent of Wynchecumb and his successors for ever, but it will be to the advantage of the King, for that when a translation is made from mortmain to mortmain the King will have the custody of the said premises as often as the said Abbey of Wynchecombe shall happen to be vacant, whereas before he did not have it. The said premises are held of Sir John de Suthleye by the service of the yearly rent of I pair of boots and I monk's girdle with a knife hanging therefrom and one needle with a point (uno agulari cu' acu), from whom the said Abbot de Bruere has full licence to transfer and assign the said premises to the said Abbot and Convent of Wynchecumb, and they are worth per annum, clear, 19s. 4d., because it is heath which is called wood.

Milliam de Berneford.

nquisition made at the Pleystouwe on Monday next after the feast of St. James the Apostle, 27 Edw. I [1299], by George Pauncefot, Nicholas de la Grave, John de Alre, Hugh Mustel, Gilbert de Cors, William le Arewesmyth, John le Clerk de Trynleghe, John Underhelde of Hasfeud, Robert Geraud, Richard de la Grave, John de Waltone, and Jordan atte Reye, who say that

William de Derneford holds the manor of Derhurst with the hamlets of Herdewyk, Walton, Cors, Trynleghe, and Hanrugge, and the 4th part of the hundred of Derhurst of the Abbot and Convent of Westminster in fee farm for £34 of yearly rent, and that the said manor with the said hamlets is worth per annum, clear, £36, besides the said farm.

The said William may give the said manor and hamlets and all other the appurtenances in co. Gloucester to the said Abbot and Convent and their successors without damage of the King or others, because whatever accrues to the portion of the Abbot of Westminster will accrue to the King in the time of a vacancy, and so it will to the profit of the King and not to his damage.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 27 Edw. I, No. 109.

Walter de Passelewe.

Inquisition made at La Egge before John de Langeleye, Sheriff of Gloucester, on Monday in the feast of St. Laurence, 27 Edw. I [1299], by Thomas de Swanhungre, John de Olepenne, Robert de Draycote, Robert atte Churiche, Walter Motun, Elias le Botiler, Walter de Gosinton, Walter Hathemar, William de Coumbe, Robert de Conel, John de Ywel, and John de Camme, who say that

Although Walter Passeleuwe should give or assign the 4th part of 1 messuage and 1 virgate of land in La Egge to the Abbot and Convent of Kyngeswod and their successors for ever it is not to the damage of the King or others.

The said messuage and land are held immediately of the said Abbot and Convent by the service of $20\frac{1}{2}d$. for all service, and are worth per annum, clear, 2s. 2d.

No lands or tenements remain to the said Walter beyond the said gift.

The country is in no way injured or burdened by the said gift.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 27 Edw. I, No. 126b.

John le Knyght.

Inquisition made by the oath of Bartholomew Archebaud, Richard de Wockeseye, Robert de Molendino, Roger de Coghtone, Robert Passelewe, William de Aldringtone, John Burdun, Henry Custaunce, William son of Henry, Thomas le Freman, Reginald de Pyrye, and William Ancketul, whether it would be to the damage of the King or others if the King should grant to John le Knyght that he may give 2 parts of I messuage and I virgate of land in Colkertone to the Abbot and Convent of Kyngeswode and his successors for ever, &c., who say that

It will not be to the damage of the King or others if John le Knyght should give to the Abbot and Convent of Kyngeswode 2 parts of I messuage and I virgate of land in Colkerton, because they are held of the said Abbot and Convent without mean by the service of 3s. by the year for all service, except in this that tenement owes suit at the hundred of Langetre twice in the year, which hundred the Abbot of Cirencester holds of the King in chief at fee farm.

The 2 parts of the said messuage and land are worth in all issues, the rent being subtracted, 3s. 8d. per annum.

No lands or tenements remain to the said John after the said gift.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 27 Edw. I, No. 126b.

Malculinus Musard.

Inquisition taken at Seyneburi, the 1st day of March, 28 Edw. I [1300], before the King's escheator, of the manor of Seyneburi, which Malculinus Musard entered without licence from the King, by the oath of William Darstin, Nicholas de Stafley, John Burne, John de Aston, William de Hudicote, John atte Grene, Thomas de Newenton, Peter de Culne, Henry le Deyar, Richard Labank, and Hugh le Despencer, who say that

The manor of Seyneburi is held of the King in chief by the service of the 4th part of 1 knight's fee.

The easements of the houses with the close and garden are worth per annum 6s. 8d.

There is there I dovecote, which is worth per annum 40d. There are there 2 water-mills, which are worth per annum 36s. Also $106\frac{1}{2}$ acres of arable land by the lesser hundred, which are worth per annum 53s. 3d., price of each acre 6d. Also 10 acres of meadow, which are worth per annum 20s., price of each acre 2s. Also 6 acres of pasture, which are worth per annum 6s., price of each acre 12d.

Sum total, £6 5s. 3d.

There are there 12 free tenants, of whom Edmund Cheverel holds I virgate of land, and pays I lb. of pepper by the year at the feast of St. Kenelm for all services. John Capellanus holds half a virgate of land, and pays by the year at the said term 1 lb. of pepper. John le Cok holds half a virgate of land, and pays per annum 1 lb. of pepper at the said term and suit at court. Randulph Musard holds I virgate of land, and pays per annum at the said term I lb. of pepper and suit at court twice by the year. Agnes Fuseler holds half a virgate of land, and pays per annum at the said term ½ lb. of pepper and suit at court. Randulph Thorebern holds I virgate of land, and pays per annum 5s., to wit, at Michaelmas 20d. and at Christmas 20d., and at Pentecost 20d. John Bustulff holds I messuage and 4 acres of land, and pays per annum at the said terms 12d. by equal portions. Robert Bayfot holds I messuage, and pays per annum at Christmas 6d. for all services. Geoffrey Capell' holds I messuage, and pays per annum at the said terms 12d. by equal portions. John Moris holds I messuage and 4 acres of land, and pays per annum at the said terms 12d. by equal portions. Alice Cartar holds I virgate of land, and pays per annum at the term of St. Kenelm the Martyr od. Nicholas de Stakley holds I carucate of land, and owes suit of court for all services.

Sum of the pepper by the year $3\frac{1}{2}$ lb., which are worth per annum 3s. 6d.

Sum of the rents of the free tenants by the year, 9s. 3d.

There are there 7 virgates of land, and the virgate contains 24 acres, and each of them pays per annum 20s. at the terms of St. Thomas the Apostle, St. Mary in March, the Nativity of St. John the Baptist, and St. Michael by equal portions. There are there 3 half virgates of land, and each half virgate contains 12 acres, and pays by the year at the said terms 10s. by equal portions.

Sum, £8.

The pleas and perquisites of the court are worth per annum 2s.. Sum of the whole value of the said manor per annum, £15.

Edmund, Earl of Cornwall.

[No date given,]

Inquisition of the manor of Lechelade, which is extended to £78 4s. 4d. by the year by itself in the Chancery, to be levied (?) at the suit of the Abbot of Hayles, who claims to have that manor of the gift of the said Earl, paying per annum 100 marks.

Sum, £78 4s. 4d.

The Honor of Walingeford, in divers Counties.

Inquisition made at Walingeford before the King's escheator the 20th day of December, 28 Edw. I [1299], of the foreign rents belonging to the honor of Walingeford, in divers counties, of the which Edmund, Earl of Cornwall, was seised on the day that he died, by the oath of Robert de Verney and others, who say that

The said Earl held of the King in chief......6d. of rent of a certain view belonging to the said honor, to be taken at Easter term, in co. Gloucester, viz., of the vill of Rishendon Parva on behalf of the said honor 4s., and of the vill of Turkedene for the same 5s., of the vill of Cheriton 2s., of the vill of Arlegh.....and of the vill of Levera for the same 6d.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 28 Edw. I, No. 44 (26).

Edmund, Earl of Cornwall.

Inquisition taken at Walingford before the King's escheator, 20 Dec., 29 Edw. I [1300], of the knight's fees to the honor of Walingford belonging, of which Edmund, Earl of Cornwall, died seised, by the oath of Robert de Verney and others, who say that

The heirs of Philip Burnel hold of the said honor I fee and a half in Rysindon, in co. Gloucester, which are worth per annum, clear, £10. The Abbot of Oseney and Matilda de Penton and John Seuar hold of the said honor half a fee in Thurkeden, in the said county, which is worth per annum 40s. The Abbot of Bruera holds of the said honor I fee in the granges of Tretton, Tangel, Nethercote, and Sandebrok, in the said county, which is worth per annum £4.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 28 Edw. I, No. 44.

Roger de Burghhull.

Inquisition made at Gloucester before Richard Talebot, Sheriff of Gloucester, 11 April, 28 Edw. I [1300], by Simon de Fromilode, Adam le Long, Henry de Waltemore, Roger Luf de Newenham, John le Long, of the same, Walter de Morcote, Henry Fulcher, Roger de Munestreworth, William Ithemore de Redleye, Adam le Fauconer de Bulleye, Walter Jordan, and Henry de Rydleye, who say that

It is not to the damage or prejudice of the King or others if the King should grant to Roger de Burghull that he may give and assign his manor of Westbury, which he holds of the King in chief, to Roger de Burghull, his son, to hold of the King and his heirs, because the said Roger is the firstborn son and heir of the said Roger.

There remains to the said Roger the father beyond the said gift 40 librates of lands and tenements at Burghull and Tullynton, in co. Hereford, which he holds of Humphrey de Bohun, Earl of Hereford and Essex, and of John son of Reginald by knight's service.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 28 Edw. I, No. 65.

John de Sudleye.

Inquisition taken at Wynchecumbe before Richard Thalebot, Sheriff of Gloucester, on Thursday next after the feast of St. Gregory the Pope, 28 Edw. I [1300], by Henry de Chavrynworth, Richard Labank, William Dastyn, Nicholas de Staveley, John de Astone, William de Hudecote, Robert de Chaverynworth, Adam Sparowe, Richard de Pistrino, Peter de Lutlydon, Thomas de Newenton, and Peter de Preston, who say that Although John de Seuleye should give 19s. 4d. in Thrope next Wynchecumbe to the Abbot and Convent of Wynchecumbe and to their successors for ever, it is not to the damage of the King or others. The said rent issued out of the fee of the Abbot. The manor of Seuley and other lands, which are worth £60 of silver by the year, remain to Sir John de Seuley beyond the said gift. The lands and tenements remaining to the said John suffice to perform the customs and services due as well for the said rent given as for the other tenements retained to himself, and for all other charges which they have sustained or were wont to sustain.

The country by the gift and assignment aforesaid in default of the said John is not to be burdened or injured more than is wont.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 28 Edw. I, No. 91.

Comund, Carl of Cornwall.

Inquisition taken at Swelle before Richard Thalebot, Sheriff of Gloucester, on Wednesday next after the feast of the Conversion of St. Paul, 28 Edw. I [1300], by Henry de Chaveryngworth, William de Aston, John de Astone, Walter de Beamund, Nicholas de Staveley, William de Cundicote, William de Westyntone, John de Cestre, Michael le Frankelayn, John de la Graunge, John Calf, and William de Camera, who say that

It is not to the damage or prejudice of the King or others although the King should grant to Edmund, Earl of Cornwall, that he may give and assign 140 acres of pasture in Swell to the Abbot and Convent of Hayles and to their successors for ever.

The said pasture is not held of any one, because Richard, King of Germany, had it in exchange from the Abbot and Convent then of Teukesbury and of Sir Nicholas Poynz deceased, together with all the lordship of the said pasture.

The said Earl owes no service or custom for the said pasture, which is worth per annum, clear, os.

The lands and tenements remaining to the said Earl beyond the said gift and assignment suffice to perform the customs and services due as well for the said pasture granted as for the other tenements retained for himself, and for all other charges which they have sustained or were wont to sustain.

They do not know that the said Earl ought to be put on assizes or juries, and although he ought yet he has a sufficiency beyond the said gift.

The country by the gift of the said pasture in default of the said Earl is not injured or burdened more than is wont.

John atte Wode.

Inquisition taken before the Sheriff of Gloucester at Bottelowe on Friday in the morrow of the Ascension of the Lord, 29 Edw. I [1301], by Roger Waryn, John de Acle, Thomas
Dobyn, John de Carswelle, Thomas de Henwe, Jewel (Juelus) de Hertlaunde, John Seycel, Robert de la Grave, Henry Tonny, Peter de Ackle, William de Huntele, and Nicholas de Styrtesden, to inquire whether 1 messuage and 6 acres of land in Bolesden which John atte Wode, who was hanged for felony, held was in the hand of the King for 1 year and 1 day or not, &c., who say that

The said messuage and land were in the hand of the King for I year and I day, and the said John atte Wode held the same of William de Bolesdon.

The said messuage and land lie uncultivated and nobody holds them.

The township of Bolesdone had the year and the day and ought to answer to the King therefor.

The Abbot of Hales.

nquisition of the manor of Lechelade which the Abbot of Hayles held, as it is said, of the gift and enfeoffment of Edmund, sometime Earl of Cornwall, kinsman of the King, if it be to the damage of the King or others if he should grant to the said Abbot that he may hold the said manor to him and his successors for ever according to the form of the said enfeoffment or not, made at Letchelade before the King's escheator, 8 January, 29 Edw. I. [1301], by the oath of Robert de Belowe, Geoffrey le Deen, Robert de Molendino, John de la Wyk, Walter Patyn, Geoffrey Pomyate, John Devereux, Ralph de Letche, William de Lecche, William de Doudeswell, Thomas Doun, and Geoffrey Mocdak, who say that

The said Earl sometime held the said manor of Lechelade and the castle of Durham in co. Rutland, and the manor of Langeberwe in co. Gloucester, of the King in chief by the service of 3 knights' fees.

And the said Earl before his death, viz., on the 21st day of September last past gave, and by his charter confirmed the said manor of Lechelade, together with the advowson of the hospital and vicarage of the church of Lechelade and other liberties to the said manor belonging to God and the Blessed Mary of the Church of Hayles and to the abbot and monks of the same place of the Cistercian Order there serving and for ever to serve; to hold to them and their successors in fee farm in frankalmoign for ever, they paying therefore yearly to the said Earl and his heirs 100 marks for all other services, secular customs, and demands.

And they say that it is to the damage of the King if the King should grant to the said Abbot that he may hold the said manor of Lechelade to him and his successors for ever, according to the form of the said enfeoffment, by as much as the sum of the value of the said manor exceeds the said 100 marks, because the said manor after the death of the said Earl would have remained wholly to the said King as the heir of the said Earl, if that gift had not been made to the said Abbot in the said form.

There is in the said manor a certain capital messuage, the easements of which are worth per annum 4s. There are there certain ditches (fossata) about the court, which are worth by the year together with the herbage 12d. There are there 75 free tenants who pay by the year of rent of assize £10 17s. 7d., viz., at the feast of St. Thomas 3s., at the feast of the Annunciation of the Blessed Mary 55s. 10d., at the feast of St. Peter ad Vincula 55s. 10d., and the residue at the feast of St. Michael. There are there 23% virgates of land in villeinage in the hands of the villeins of the said manor, each of which pays by the year 12s. 6d., viz., at the feast of St. Thomas the Apostle 2s. 2d., at the feast of the Annunciation of the Blessed Mary 2s. 2d., at the Nativity of St. John the Baptist 2s. 2d., and at the feast of St. Michael 6s. And each of them shall plough and harrow I acre at the winter sowing, and the work is worth 5d.; and each of them shall harrow I acre at the Lent sowing, and the work is worth 1d. And all (?) the said virgates pay by the year at the feast of St. Martin (?) of quarters of wheat, which are worth one year with another 33s. 8d., price of the quarter 3s. 4d. There are there 4 villeins, who hold 11 virgates of land and pay by the year 21s., viz., at the feast of St. Thomas the Apostle 2s. 2d., at the feast of the Annunciation -s. 2d., at the feast of the Nativity of St. John the Baptist 6s. 2d., and the residue at the feast of St. Michael. There is there 1 villein, who holds half a virgate of land and pays by the year 8s. 3d., viz., at the feasts of the Annunciation and St. Peter ad Vincula by equal portions. And the sum of the whole rent of the said villeins by the year is £16 3s. And the sum of the said works is 11s. 10d. There are there 18 cottars, who pay by the year 34s. 5d., viz., at the feast of the Annunciation 15s. 2d., at the feast of St. Peter ad Vincula 15s. 2d., and the residue at the feast of St. Michael. And they pay by the year at the feast of St. Mark 32 hens and 8 cocks, which are worth 4s. 8d., price of the hen 1\frac{1}{2}d., price of the cock 1d. And of the said cottars there are 3, each of whom ought to reap at 3 work days in autumn, and they are worth 3d. Seven of the said cottars ought to reap at 4 work days, and they are worth 4d. And I of the said cottars ought to reap at 2 work days, and they are worth 2d. The sum of the said work days is 30, and they are worth 3s. 3d. Seven of the said cottars ought to work every Monday from the feast of St. Michael up to the feast of the Nativity of St. John the Baptist, except feast days, viz., for 36 days, each day I small work, price $\frac{1}{2}d$. The sum of the said works is 252, and they are worth 10s. 6d.

All the said customars pay by the year at Michaelmas for tallage 100s. And at Lady Day for a certain custom called vishselver 2s. 6d. The pannage of the pigs there per annum at the feast of St. Martin is worth one year with another 6d. The fairs there in the feast of St. Lawrence are worth per annum 13s. 4d. The toll of the market there every Tuesday is worth per annum 13s. 4d. The pleas and perquisites of the court there, with the fines, heriots, and reliefs, are worth per annum 40s. The lord of the said manor ought to take his reasonable estover for haybote and housebote in the wood of Edmund de Cornwall, grandson (nepolis) of the said Edmund sometime Earl of Cornwall, at Esthalle by the view of the forester of the said wood, and it is worth per annum 40s.

Sum of the said extent, £68 4s. 4d.

John de Penebrugg.

Inquisition made before the sheriff at Mune on Thursday in the week of Pentecost, 29 Edw. I [1301], by Nicholas de Staveleye, Walter de Beaumont, John Burne, William de Hudicote, Peter de Gatewyk, John de la Grene, Henry Philipp de Quenton, John Nichol de Pebbeworth, Robert Hereward of the same, Thomas Ace de Weston, John de Cestre, and Geoffrey de Chaveringworth to inquire if it be to the damage of the King if he should grant to John de Penebrugg that he may enfeoff Edward his brother of 10 marks of rent in Mune, which are held of the King in chief, as it is said: to hold to the said Edward and his heirs of the King and his heirs by the services due and accustomed for ever; and if so to what damage, &c.

Who say that it is not to the damage of the King or others if the King should grant to the said John de Penebrugg that he may enfeoff the said Edward his brother of the said 10 marks of rent in Meune: to hold to the said Edward and his heirs of the King and his heirs for ever.

The said 10 marks of rent are held of the King by the service of the 4th part of a knight's fee; and besides that rent there remain to the said John other 10 marks of rent in Meune, which said rent is held of the King by the service of the 4th part of a knight's fee, and both the said 10 marks are worth by the year, clear, 20 marks.
